

A broadcasting company can mandate its stations to show certain programs. That was news to me when I learned that Sinclair Broadcasting is mandating its stations to air "Stolen Honor" a derogatory program about John Kerry. Is this really free press? It seems like biased broadcasting unless Sinclair plans to air a similar program about Bush and his lack of service during Vietnam.

Please stop Sinclair from airing the "Stolen Honor" program next week.